TITLE

The origins of Transpadana: northern Piedmont between 2nd and 1st c. BC

ABSTRACT

The poster shows the early phases of Romanization in western Alps and northern Piedmont territories, which belong to the Regio XI in the age of Augustus. Here are presented the areas involved in Roman expansion between Late Republic and Augustan age. In detail, our poster explains the chronological and spatial range of each intervention on the territory: the Gracchan age, C. Marius, and Caesar-Augustus colonization. Then, it highlights the relationship with non-Roman populations and the characteristic administrative structure during this period.
